

HIGHLAND INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC PRIVATE LESSONS

Private lessons are the single greatest way to improve your child's musical skills; thus, we highly recommend private lessons for all instrumental students. Each instrument requires specific, highly individualized skills that cannot be taught in a full music ensemble (60-130 students). Half hour private lessons give your child the opportunity to learn these skills, thereby providing increased self confidence on his/her instrument while developing and continuously reinforcing time management skills, commitment, and responsibility.

The decision to study privately involves a commitment from both student and parent. Students must be willing and able to commit to a practice routine, or little, if any, improvement will occur. Students and parents that are "too busy" should seriously consider this commitment before taking private lessons.

Tuition: Monthly tuition is payable to the teacher the first week of the month. The prices range from $11-$15 per half hour lesson.

Adjustments:

1. If a conflict arises and the teacher can be given 24 hours notice (so the teacher may schedule another student for that week) there will be no charge for the lesson.
2. If a conflict arises and the teacher cannot be given 24 hours notice, the lesson is forfeited and the student must come the following week. Please remember that our teachers are professionals. They are here for YOU and expect to be paid.
3. If a teacher cannot make a lesson, and adjustment will be made the following month.

Understand that there is no obligation to participate in this program. This is a service we are providing for our students to raise their standard of excellence while at the same time serve as a convenience to the students and parents in the Highland School District. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.
